10. Where in the relevant period any chargeable petroleum of the relevant chargeable person is delivered to a refinery in Malaysia for refining or to a gas processing plant in Malaysia for processing by or on behalf of that chargeable person, an amount equal to the market value of the chargeable petroleum shall be treated as gross income of that chargeable person for that period.

- (b) if the deduction has been made in respect of a debt estimated to have become partly irrecoverable and there has been received by that chargeable person in respect of the debt a sum (or an aggregate of sums) in excess of the amount of that part of the debt not estimated to have become irrecoverable, so much of that excess as is recovered by that chargeable person in the relevant period shall be treated as gross income of that chargeable person for the relevant period.

(2) Where—

- (a) a deduction has been made under subsection 15(1) or subsection 16(4) in computing the adjusted income of the relevant chargeable person for the basis period for a year of assessment (that basis period being prior to the relevant period) in respect of any outgoing or expense (including any sum payable, rent payable, expense incurred or rates payable of the kind described in paragraph 15(1)(a), (b), (c) or (d) or subsection 16(4), as the case may be); and
- (b) the whole or any part of a debt in respect of any such outgoing, expense, sum, rent, expense or rates is released in the relevant period, the amount released shall be treated as gross income of the relevant chargeable person for the relevant period.

 - (i) the residual expenditure (within the meaning of that Schedule) at the date on which that period begins; and
 - (ii) the qualifying exploration expenditure (within the meaning of that Schedule) incurred by the relevant chargeable person during that period, the amount of the excess shall be treated as gross income of the relevant chargeable person for the relevant period.

- (a) subject to subsection (2), any sum payable for that period (or for any part of that period) by way of interest upon any money borrowed by that chargeable person and—
 - (i) employed in that period in the production of the gross income; or
 - (ii) laid out on assets used or held in that period for the production of the gross income:

 - (i) the amount of the loan then outstanding if any; and
 - (ii) the cost of so much of the investment as is held at that time if any,

- (c) if at the end of any calendar month the aggregate mentioned in the preceding paragraph is more than the amount of that borrowed money, the monthly figure for that month shall be reduced to nil; and
- (d) the amount of the deduction to be made for that period in respect of that borrowed money shall be an amount consisting of the aggregate of—

(4) No relief shall be given under this section in respect of an error or mistake as to the basis on which the chargeability of the applicant ought to have been computed if the return or statement containing the error or mistake was in fact made on the basis of, or in accordance with, the practice of the Director General generally prevailing at the time when the return or statement was made.

(6) Transactions—

- (a) between companies one of which has control over the other; or
- (b) between companies both of which are controlled by some other company, shall be deemed to be transactions of the kind to which subsection (1) applies if in the opinion of the Director General those transactions have not been made on terms which might fairly be expected to have been made by independent companies engaged in the same or similar activities dealing with one another at arm's length.

(7) In this section “transaction” means any trust, grant, covenant, agreement, arrangement or other disposition or transaction made or entered into orally or in writing (whether before or after the commencement of this Act), and includes a transaction entered into by two or more companies with another company or companies.

(3) Where the Director General has reason to believe that any property or services referred to in subsection (2) is acquired or supplied at a price which is either less than or greater than the price which it might have been expected to fetch if the parties to the transaction had been independent persons dealing at arm's length, he may in determination of the gross income, adjusted income or adjusted loss, statutory income, assessable income or chargeable income of the chargeable person, substitute the price in respect of the transaction to reflect an arm's length price for the transaction.

(4) Where the Director General, having regard to the circumstances of the case, is of the opinion that in the basis period for a year of assessment the value or aggregate of all financial assistance granted by a person to a chargeable person who is a resident, is excessive in relation to the fixed capital of such chargeable person, any interest, finance charge, other consideration payable for or losses suffered in respect of the financial assistance shall, to the extent to which it relates to the amount which is excessive, be disallowed as a deduction for the purposes of this Act.

(5) The transactions or the financial assistance referred to in subsection (2) or (4) respectively, shall be construed as transactions or financial assistance between—

(3) Subparagraph (1) shall not apply to chargeable persons carrying on petroleum operations—

- (a) in the Joint Development Area; or
- (b) in an area under any agreement or arrangement made by the Government with the government of any territory outside Malaysia for the joint exploration and exploitation of petroleum in overlapping areas referred to in subsection 65B(1).

(4) Any amount deducted under subparagraphs (1) and (2) shall be disregarded for the purpose of ascertaining the adjusted income—

- (a) of the first-mentioned chargeable person; or
- (b) where subparagraph (2) applies, of the second-mentioned chargeable person.

4. (1) Where in the basis period for a year of assessment a chargeable person incurs any qualifying exploration expenditure, there shall be made to that chargeable person, for that year, an allowance to be known as “initial allowance”.

(2) The amount of initial allowance to be made under subparagraph (1) shall be an amount equal to—

- (a) where the qualifying exploration expenditure is incurred in secondary recovery, twenty per cent thereof;
- (b) in any other case, ten per cent of the qualifying exploration expenditure.

5. (1) Where a chargeable person incurs any qualifying exploration expenditure, there shall be made to that chargeable person for each of the consecutive years of assessment beginning with the year of assessment in the basis period for which that expenditure is incurred, an allowance to be known as “annual allowance”.

(2) The amount of annual allowance for a year of assessment shall be the amount which results from applying to the residual expenditure the fraction of which—

- (a) the numerator represents the output from the petroleum operations for the basis period for that year; and
- (b) the denominator represents the sum of that output and the total potential future output of the petroleum operations, estimated as at the end of that period, notwithstanding that such output is shared with another person under an agreement with such other person to carry out the petroleum operations or the fraction three-twentieths, whichever is the greater.

6. Where under this Schedule an initial allowance or an annual allowance falls to be made to a chargeable person for any year of assessment, in the ascertainment of the adjusted income of that chargeable person for that year of assessment under subsection 16(5), an amount equal to that initial allowance or that annual allowance, as the case may be, shall be deducted from the gross income of that chargeable person for the basis period for that year of assessment.

*Transfer of asset, etc.7. In paragraphs 8 to 13—

“consideration” means consideration (not being in the nature of or representing income) which is monetary or non-monetary or both;

“exploration asset” means an asset on or for which the chargeable person has incurred qualifying expenditure in connection with or in preparation for the petroleum operations;

“other property” means property which is not an exploration asset;

“value” means—

- (a) in relation to monetary consideration, the amount of the consideration;
- (b) in relation to non-monetary consideration, the market value of the consideration, at the time of the transaction to which the consideration relates.

8. Subject to paragraph 9—

- (a) where the chargeable person transfers an exploration asset for a consideration, the value of the consideration shall be deemed to be recovered expenditure and to be received by the chargeable person at the date of the transfer;
- (b) where the chargeable person receives any consideration for the granting of any right in or over petroleum deposits, the value of the consideration shall be deemed to be recovered expenditure in relation to the petroleum operations and the chargeable person; and
- (c) where the chargeable person receives any amount or property by way of compensation, recoupment or otherwise for any qualifying exploration expenditure (being expenditure of a kind which does not produce an exploration asset) incurred by him in connection with or in preparation for petroleum operations, that amount or the market value of that property at the time of its receipt shall be deemed to be recovered expenditure in relation to the chargeable person.

9. Where the chargeable person transfers an exploration asset together with any other property, then—

- (a) if the transfer is made for an undivided consideration and the chargeable person and the transferee are able to agree how much of the value of the consideration should be treated as given for the exploration asset and for the other property respectively, they shall within three months of the transfer jointly furnish the Director General with a written statement showing the apportionment of the consideration as so agreed and, subject to subparagraph (c), the part of that value apportioned to the exploration asset shall be deemed to be recovered expenditure to be received by the chargeable person at the date of the transfer;

- (b) if the transfer is made for separate considerations, the chargeable person shall within three months of the transfer furnish the Director General with a written statement showing the value of each consideration and, subject to subparagraph (c), the value of the consideration shown in that statement for the exploration asset shall be deemed to be recovered expenditure to be received by the chargeable person at the date of the transfer; and
- (c) if the Director General is not satisfied with the apportionment mentioned in subparagraph (a) or with any value shown in the statement mentioned in subparagraph (b), or if there is a failure to furnish a statement in accordance with either of those subparagraphs, the Director General shall determine to the best of his judgment the value of the consideration for the exploration asset, and the value so determined shall be deemed to be recovered expenditure to be received by the chargeable person at the date of the transfer.

10. Where there is a transfer by the chargeable person of an exploration asset (with or without any other property) together with a grant by the chargeable person of a right of the kind mentioned in subparagraph 8(b), then, for the purposes of paragraph 9—

- (a) the grant shall be treated as forming part of the transfer of that asset; and
- (b) the right shall be treated as forming part of that asset, and that paragraph shall apply accordingly with any necessary modifications.

11. Where the chargeable person transfers an exploration asset (with or without other property) either—

- (a) for an undivided consideration (as regards that asset and that other property, if any) together with an amount or property of the kind mentioned in subparagraph 8(c); or
- (b) for separate considerations (as regards that asset and that other property, if any) together with an amount or property of that kind, paragraph 9 shall apply with any necessary modifications.

12. For the purposes of paragraphs 8 to 11, if any consideration consists partly of money and partly of non-monetary property, the value of the monetary part of the consideration and the value of the non-monetary part thereof shall, whenever necessary, be aggregated or aggregated and apportioned, as the case may require.

13. Where there takes place a transaction as a result of which an amount would (but for this paragraph) fall to be treated under any provision of paragraphs 7 to 12 as recovered expenditure of the chargeable person in relation to the petroleum operations and—

- (a) the chargeable person is a company over which the other party to the transaction has control;
- (b) that other party is a company over which the chargeable person has control;
- (c) some other company has control over both that chargeable person and that other party;
- (d) the transaction takes place pursuant to a scheme of reconstruction or amalgamation of companies; or
- (e) the Director General is of the opinion that the transaction is or forms part of a transaction to which section 72 applies, the residual expenditure referable to the exploration asset immediately before the date of that first-mentioned transaction shall be deemed in the hands of that chargeable person to be recovered expenditure received at that date and in the hands of that other party to be qualifying exploration expenditure incurred at that date; and paragraphs 5 to 10 shall not apply in relation to that first-mentioned transaction.

13A. (1) Where in the basis period for a year of assessment a chargeable person has incurred qualifying exploration expenditure in relation to an asset and the input tax on the asset is subject to any adjustment made under the Goods and Services Tax Act 2014, the amount of such expenditure in relation to that asset shall be adjusted in the basis period for the year of assessment in which the period of adjustment relating to the asset as provided under the Goods and Services Tax Act 2014 ends.

(2) In the event the adjustment of the amount of the qualifying exploration expenditure made under subparagraph (1) results in—

- (a) an additional amount, such amount shall be deemed to be part of the qualifying exploration expenditure incurred, and the residual expenditure under paragraph 46 of the Second Schedule in relation to the asset shall include that additional amount; or
- (b) a reduced amount, the qualifying exploration expenditure incurred and the residual expenditure under paragraph 46 of the Second Schedule shall be reduced by such amount, and if the amount of the allowance made or ought to have been made under this Schedule exceeds the residual expenditure, the excess shall be part of the statutory income of that person from a source consisting of a business in the basis period the adjustment is made.

(3) The excess amount referred to in subparagraph (2)(b) shall not exceed the total amount of allowances given under this Schedule.

(4) Notwithstanding subparagraph (1), where a chargeable person has incurred the qualifying exploration expenditure in relation to an asset, and the asset is disposed of at any time during the period of adjustment specified under the Goods and Services Tax Act 2014, the adjustment to such expenditure shall be made in the basis period for the year of assessment in which the disposal is made.

(5) Paragraph 13 shall apply for the purpose of the adjustment referred to in subparagraph (4).

17. (1) Subject to this Schedule, where in the basis period for a year of assessment a chargeable person disposes of an asset in relation to which he has incurred qualifying expenditure for the purposes of his petroleum operations and the residual expenditure at the date of the disposal of that asset exceeds the disposal value of that asset, there shall be made to him for that year of assessment an allowance equal to the amount of the excess.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph 19 but otherwise subject to this Schedule, where—

- (c) that amount exceeds the disposal value of that asset, there shall be made to that chargeable person for that year of assessment an allowance equal to the amount of that excess.

18. Subject to this Schedule, where in the basis period for a year of assessment a chargeable person disposes of an asset in relation to which he has incurred qualifying expenditure for the purposes of his petroleum operations and the disposal value of the asset exceeds the residual expenditure at the date of its disposal, there shall be made on him for that year a charge equal to the amount of the excess.

21A. Paragraphs 22 and 23^A shall apply where a chargeable person (in this paragraph referred to as the “disposer”) disposes of an asset in relation to which an initial or annual allowance has been made or would have been made, if claimed, to him (in this paragraph referred to as the “asset”) and that asset continues to be used for petroleum operations by another chargeable person (in this paragraph referred to as the “acquirer”) in another petroleum agreement under which the acquirer has not incurred qualifying expenditure in respect of that asset and at the time of the disposal—the disposer of the asset, the asset in question and the acquirer of the asset being in those paragraphs referred to as the disposer, the asset and the acquirer respectively.

22. (1) Subject to any rules made under paragraph 23 or 23A, the disposal of the asset shall be deemed to have taken place on the first day of the disposer's final period for a sum equal to the disposer's residual expenditure on that day.

(2) In this paragraph "the disposer's final period" means, in relation to the disposal and acquisition of the asset, the basis period (appropriate to the disposer's petroleum operations for the purposes of which qualifying expenditure has been incurred in relation to the asset) for the year of assessment which coincides with the first year of assessment for which an initial or annual allowance may be made to the acquirer in relation to the asset if it is used for the purposes of the petroleum operations carried on by the acquirer or as an industrial building.

23. Any qualifying expenditure incurred by the acquirer in relation to the asset to which regard would be had but for this paragraph shall be disregarded for the purposes of this Schedule and the acquirer shall be deemed to have incurred qualifying expenditure in relation to the asset of an amount equal to the sum ascertained under paragraph 22 in relation to the asset; and in relation to the asset—

- (a) the date on which the acquirer shall be treated as having incurred the expenditure so deemed to have been incurred by him;

shall be determined in such manner as may be prescribed by rules to be made for the purposes of paragraphs 21, 22 and this paragraph.

- (d) such other matters as may be considered necessary by the Minister, shall be determined in such manner as may be prescribed by rules to be made for the purposes of paragraphs 21A and 22 and this paragraph.

Interpretation

24. In this Schedule “asset”, except where the context otherwise requires, means an asset in relation to which qualifying expenditure has been incurred.

25. Any reference in this Schedule to any asset or to any relevant interest therein shall be construed whenever necessary as including a reference to a part of any asset or to any relevant interest therein (or, in the case of an asset or any relevant interest therein held in undivided shares, the undivided share in the asset or in the relevant interest therein); and, when it is so construed, the Director General shall make such necessary apportionments as may be just and reasonable to give proper effect to this Schedule.

26. For the purposes of this Schedule, capital expenditure incurred on—

- (a) the provision of machinery or plant, includes capital expenditure incurred on the reconstruction of that machinery or plant;
- (b) the construction of a building, includes capital expenditure incurred on the reconstruction or rebuilding of that building.

27. Where a chargeable person incurs capital expenditure under a hire purchase agreement on the provision of any machinery or plant for the purposes of his petroleum operations, he shall for the purposes of this Schedule be taken to be the owner of that machinery or plant; and the qualifying expenditure incurred by him on that machinery or plant in the basis period for a year of assessment shall be taken to be the capital portion of any instalment payment (or, where there is more than one such payment, of the aggregate of those payments) made by him under that agreement in that period.

28. For the purposes of this Schedule, where an asset consists of a building the owner thereof shall be taken to be the owner of the relevant interest in the building.

29. Subject to paragraph 48A, a building in respect of which qualifying expenditure has been incurred is disposed of within the meaning of this Schedule on the occurrence of any of the following events:

- (a) the sale, transfer or assignment of the relevant interest in the building;
- (b) where that interest depends on the duration of a petroleum agreement, the termination of such petroleum agreement;
- (c) where that interest is a leasehold interest, the determination of that relevant interest otherwise than on the person entitled thereto acquiring the reversion;
- (d) the demolition or destruction of the building, or on the building ceasing to be used as an industrial building.

30. In this Schedule “relevant interest”, in relation to a building on which qualifying building expenditure has been incurred, means (subject to paragraphs 31 and 32) the interest in the building to which the chargeable person who incurred that expenditure was entitled when he incurred it.

31. Where—

- (a) a chargeable person is entitled to two or more interests in a building when he incurs qualifying expenditure on it; and
- (b) one of those interests is an interest which is reversionary on all the others, that reversionary interest shall be the relevant interest for the purposes of this Schedule.

32. An interest shall not cease to be the relevant interest for the purposes of this Schedule by reason of the creation of any lease or other interest to which that first-mentioned interest is subject; and, where the relevant interest is a leasehold interest and is extinguished by the surrender thereof or on the person entitled thereto acquiring the interest which is reversionary thereon, the interest into which that leasehold merges shall thereupon become the relevant interest.

33. (1) Any reference in this Schedule to the disposal, purchase or transfer of any asset includes a reference to the disposal, purchase or transfer, as the case may be, of that asset together with any other asset, whether or not qualifying expenditure has been incurred on that last-mentioned asset, and in any such case so much of the disposal value or the purchase price, as the case may be, of those assets as, on a just apportionment, is properly attributable to the first-mentioned asset shall, for the purposes of this Schedule, be deemed to be the disposal value or the purchase price, as the case may be, of that first-mentioned asset.

(2) For the purposes of this paragraph, all the assets which are disposed of, purchased or transferred in pursuance of one bargain shall be deemed to be disposed of, purchased or transferred, as the case may be, together, notwithstanding that separate prices are or purport to be agreed for each of those assets or that there are or purport to be separate disposals, purchases or transfers, as the case may be, of those assets.

(3) Subparagraphs (1) and (2) shall apply, with any necessary modifications, to the disposal, purchase or transfer of any asset or the relevant interest in any asset together with any other asset or relevant interest in any other asset.

34. Where any chargeable person has incurred expenditure in relation to an asset which is allowed to be deducted under Chapter 3 of Part III in computing the adjusted income or adjusted loss of that chargeable person for the basis period for a year of assessment from his petroleum operations, that expenditure shall not be treated as qualifying expenditure in relation to that asset.

35. For the purposes of this Schedule—

- (a) in the case of any expenditure incurred on the construction of a building, the day on which that expenditure is incurred is the day on which the construction of the building is completed, and in the case of any expenditure incurred on the provision of machinery or plant for the purposes of petroleum operations the day on which that expenditure is incurred is the day on which the machinery or plant is capable of being used for the purposes of the petroleum operations;
- (b) in any other case, the day on which the amount of any expenditure becomes payable is the day on which that amount of expenditure is incurred.

36. For the purposes of this Schedule, an asset which is temporarily disused in relation to the petroleum operations of a chargeable person shall be deemed to be in use for the purposes of the petroleum operations if it was in use for the purposes of the petroleum operations immediately before becoming disused and if during the period of disuse it is constantly maintained in readiness to be brought back into use for those purposes.

37. If an asset which is temporarily disused in relation to the petroleum operations of a chargeable person ceases to be ready for use for the purposes of the petroleum operations or if its disuse can no longer reasonably be regarded as temporary, it shall be deemed to have ceased at the beginning of the period of disuse to be used for the purposes of the petroleum operations, and all such assessments shall be made as may be necessary to counteract the benefit of any allowance made to the chargeable person for any year of assessment by reason of the application of paragraph 36 in relation to the asset.

38. For the purposes of this Schedule, subject to paragraph 48A a building is purchased by a person on the sale, transfer or assignment to him of a relevant interest in the building.

39. Any reference in this Schedule to the date of any sale, purchase or transfer shall be construed as a reference to the date of completion of the sale, purchase or transfer, as the case may be, or the date when possession of the asset the subject matter of the sale, purchase or transfer, as the case may be (or of the asset in which there is a relevant interest which is the subject matter of the sale, purchase or transfer, as the case may be) is given, whichever is the earlier.

40. Subject to paragraph 48A, any plant or machinery which is used for the purposes of petroleum operations and in respect of which qualifying expenditure has been incurred is disposed of within the meaning of this Schedule if it is sold, discarded or destroyed or if it ceases to be used for the purposes of those petroleum operations.

40A. (1) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Schedule, where any part of an asset of a chargeable person from a business ceases to be used for purposes of a business of his in a basis period for a year of assessment due to replacement with a new part and that new part is depreciated separately in accordance with the generally accepted accounting principles, that part of an asset is deemed to have been disposed of in that basis period for that year of assessment.

(2) The qualifying expenditure of the part of the asset disposed shall be taken to be the amount determined for the new part being depreciated separately in accordance with the generally accepted accounting principles.

(3) The residual expenditure under paragraph 46 in respect of the part of the asset disposed shall be the qualifying expenditure of the part of an asset disposed reduced by the amount of allowance that have been made or would have been made under this Schedule to that chargeable person prior to the disposal of that part of the asset.

(4) The provisions of this Schedule shall apply to the new part of an asset referred to under subparagraphs (1) and (2).

41. For the purposes of this Schedule,—

- (a) subject to subparagraphs (b) and (c), where an asset is disposed of by a person, its disposal value shall be taken to be an amount equal to its market value at the date of its disposal or, in the case of its disposal by way of sale, transfer or assignment—
- (i) an amount equal to its market value at the date of the sale, transfer or assignment, as the case may be; or
 - (ii) the net proceeds of the sale, transfer or assignment, as the case may be, whichever is the greater:

Provided that, where the asset is disposed of in such circumstances that insurance or compensation moneys are received by that person in respect of the asset, its disposal value shall be taken to be an amount equal to its market value at the date of its disposal or those moneys, whichever is the greater;

- (b) subject to subparagraph 22(1), where an asset has vested in Petroliam Nasional Berhad under an agreement between Petroliam Nasional Berhad or the Malaysia-Thailand Joint Authority and the person who incurred qualifying expenditure in respect of such assets, its disposal value shall be taken to be zero;
- (c) subject to subparagraph (b), where an asset of the kind to which subparagraph 2(2) applies is disposed of, the disposal value shall be deemed to be an amount which bears the same proportion to the disposal value ascertained under subparagraph (a) as the qualifying plant expenditure ascertained under subparagraph 2(2) bears to the qualifying plant expenditure ascertained under subparagraph 2(1).

42. Subject to paragraphs 43 and 44, a building is an industrial building within the meaning of this Schedule if it is used for the purposes of petroleum operations.

43. (1) Where a building is an industrial building, any building provided as a canteen, rest-room, recreation room, lavatory, bath-house, bathroom or washroom for persons employed in the petroleum operations for the purposes of which that industrial building is used shall be treated as an industrial building.

(2) A building used as a dwelling house or a retail shop, show-room, hotel or office is not and shall not be treated as an industrial building.

(3) Any work or building of the kind described in subparagraph 1(c) of the First Schedule is not and shall not be treated as an industrial building.

44. Where part of a building or of an extension of a building is used as an industrial building and the other part of the building or extension, as the case may be, is not so used, then, if the capital expenditure incurred on the construction of the part which is not so used is not more than one-tenth of the capital expenditure incurred on the construction of the whole building or extension, as the case may be, the building or extension, as the case may be, shall be treated as an industrial building for the purposes of this Schedule; and, where the whole or some of the capital expenditure incurred on the construction of the part not so used is not identifiable as the capital expenditure incurred on the whole building or extension, as the case may be, that last-mentioned expenditure or the part thereof not identifiable as incurred on the respective parts of the building or extension, as the case may be, shall be apportioned by reference to the respective floor areas of those respective parts or in such other manner as the Director General may direct.

45. Where capital expenditure is incurred on preparing, cutting, tunnelling or levelling land in order to prepare a site for the installation of machinery or plant to be used for the purposes of petroleum operations, then, if that expenditure amounts to more than seventy-five per cent of the aggregate of that expenditure and the capital expenditure incurred on that machinery or plant, the machinery or plant shall as regards that aggregate expenditure be treated for the purposes of this Schedule as a building so long as that machinery or plant is used for the purposes of those petroleum operations; and that aggregate expenditure shall be treated as the amount of the qualifying expenditure incurred on that building which shall be treated as disposed of if that plant or machinery is disposed of.

45A. (1) Where in the basis period for a year of assessment a chargeable person has incurred qualifying expenditure in relation to an asset and the input tax on the asset is subject to any adjustment made under the Goods and Services Tax Act 2014, the amount of such expenditure in relation to that asset shall be adjusted in the basis period for the year of assessment in which the period of adjustment relating to the asset as provided under the Goods and Services Tax Act 2014 ends.

(2) In the event the adjustment of the amount of the qualifying expenditure made under subparagraph (1) results in—

- (a) an additional amount, such amount shall be deemed to be part of the qualifying expenditure incurred, and the residual expenditure under paragraph 46 in relation to the asset shall include that additional amount; or
- (b) a reduced amount, the qualifying expenditure incurred and the residual expenditure under paragraph 46 shall be reduced by such amount, and if the amount of the allowance made or ought to have been made under this Schedule exceeds the residual expenditure, the excess shall be part of the statutory income of that chargeable person from a source consisting of a business in the basis period the adjustment is made.

(3) The excess amount referred to in subsubparagraph 2(b) shall not exceed the total amount of allowances given under this Schedule.

(4) Notwithstanding subparagraph (2), where a chargeable person has incurred the qualifying expenditure in relation to an asset, and the asset is disposed of at any time during the period of adjustment specified under the Goods and Services Tax Act 2014, the adjustment to such expenditure shall be made in the basis period for the year of assessment in which the disposal is made.

(5) Paragraphs 22 and 23 shall apply for the purpose of the adjustment referred to in subparagraph (4).

46. A reference in this Schedule to residual expenditure at any date in relation to an asset in respect of which qualifying expenditure has been incurred by a chargeable person is to be construed as a reference to the total qualifying expenditure incurred by him on the provision, construction or purchase of the asset before that date, reduced by—

- (a) the amount of any initial allowance made to that chargeable person in relation to that asset for any year of assessment;
- (b) any annual allowance made to that chargeable person in relation to that asset for any year of assessment before that date; and
- (c) any annual allowance which, if it had been claimed (or could have been claimed, if the asset had been in use for the purposes of his petroleum operations) by that chargeable person in relation to that asset, would have been made to him for a year of assessment before that date.

47. Any reference in this Schedule to an allowance made to a person for a year of assessment or to an allowance to which a chargeable person is entitled under this Schedule for a year of assessment is a reference to—

- (a) an allowance which is claimed for a year of assessment and is made or is due to be made for that year of assessment (any such allowance being treated as having been made at the end of the basis period for that year of assessment); and
- (b) an allowance which would have been made or to which that chargeable person would have been entitled in relation to his petroleum operations for a year of assessment but for an insufficiency or absence of adjusted income or the existence of an adjusted loss for the basis period for that year of assessment.

48. In this Schedule “purchase price”, in relation to the purchase of an industrial building, includes any legal fee, stamp duty or other incidental expenditure incurred by the purchaser in connection with the purchase, but does not include so much of the purchase price of the building and of any land or an interest therein purchased with the building as is attributable to the land or that interest; and, for the purposes of paragraph 33, the building and that land or the interest therein, as the case may be, shall be treated as being separate assets.

48A. For the purposes of this Schedule, where under an agreement between Petroleum Nasional Berhad or the Malaysia-Thailand Joint Authority and another chargeable person who has incurred qualifying expenditure in respect of an asset the asset vests in Petroleum Nasional Berhad or the Malaysia-Thailand Joint Authority, such vesting alone shall not be treated as cessation of ownership or as disposal of such asset by that other chargeable person.

Supplemental provisions

49. Where a chargeable person has incurred qualifying expenditure in relation to an asset which is owned by that chargeable person for a period of less than two years, the Director General may direct that any allowance which but for this paragraph would fall to be made to him in relation to that asset shall not be made; and, where any such allowance has been made, a balancing charge in an amount equal to any such allowance shall be made on him for the year of assessment in the basis period for which the asset was disposed of by him.

50. In the application of the provisions of this Schedule to a chargeable person regard shall only be had to qualifying expenditure incurred by him in relation to an asset which is in use in Malaysia for the purposes of his petroleum operations.

51. Where qualifying expenditure has been incurred by a chargeable person in relation to an asset used for the purposes of his petroleum operations, then, if—

- (a) the asset is used only partly for the purposes of the petroleum operations;
- (b) the asset is not used wholly in Malaysia for the purposes of the petroleum operations;
- (c) the petroleum operations are carried on partly in Malaysia and partly elsewhere, and the asset is not used wholly for the purposes of the petroleum operations carried on in Malaysia; or
- (d) the asset is used for the purposes of petroleum operations under more than one petroleum agreement, any allowance to be made to that chargeable person under this Schedule for a year of assessment in relation to the asset shall consist of so much of what would have been the amount of the allowance claimed and due for that year if the asset had been used in the basis period for that year of assessment wholly for the purposes of the petroleum operations, or wholly in Malaysia for the purposes of the petroleum operations, or wholly for the purposes of the petroleum operations carried on in Malaysia or wholly for the purposes of petroleum operations under one petroleum agreement, as the case may be, as shall be determined by the Director General having regard to all the circumstances of the case:

Provided that in ascertaining the residual expenditure at any date in relation to the asset regard shall be had, with respect to any allowance claimed in relation to that asset for any year of assessment, to the full amount of that allowance which but for this paragraph would then have been made to him for that year in relation to that asset.

52. Where, by reason of an insufficiency or absence of adjusted income of a chargeable person from his petroleum operations, for the basis period for a year of assessment, or by reason of the existence of an adjusted loss of that chargeable person for that period from his petroleum operations, effect cannot be given or cannot be given in full to any allowance or to the aggregate amount of any allowances falling to be made to him for that year of assessment, the allowance or that aggregate amount, as the case may be, which has not been so made (or so much thereof as has not been so made to it for that year of assessment) shall be deemed to be an allowance to be made to him for the first subsequent year of assessment for the basis period for which there is adjusted income from its petroleum operations, and so on for subsequent years of assessment until the whole amount of the allowance or that aggregate amount to be made to him has been made to him.

53. A chargeable person shall not be entitled to an allowance under this Schedule for a year of assessment unless he makes a claim for the allowance for that year in accordance with paragraph 54.

54. (1) Any claim by a chargeable person for an allowance under this Schedule for a year of assessment shall be made in a written statement containing such particulars as may be requisite to show that the claimant is entitled to the allowance and a certificate duly signed on behalf of the claimant verifying those particulars.

(2) Any claim to be made by a chargeable person for a year of assessment in accordance with this paragraph shall be delivered with the copy of the accounts made and delivered under section 30 for that year of assessment.

55. Where in the case of the petroleum operations of a chargeable person the basis periods for two years of assessment overlap, the period common to those periods shall be deemed for the purposes of this Schedule to fall into the earlier of those periods and not into the later of those periods.

56. Where as regards the petroleum operations of a chargeable person the Director General has exercised the power conferred upon him by subsection 5(3) to direct that the basis period for a year of assessment shall consist of a specified period, any allowance or charge to be made on or to that chargeable person under this Schedule for that year of assessment shall be ascertained by reference to such a period as shall be determined by the Director General, and that last-mentioned period shall be taken to be the basis period for that year of assessment in the application of this paragraph with this Schedule.

THIRD SCHEDULE

4. The notice forwarded under paragraph 3 shall constitute the petition of appeal and the appellant's address contained therein shall constitute the appellant's address for service.

5. Either party to an appeal may change his address for service by giving written notice of the change to the Secretary and the other party.

Place and date of hearing

6. On receipt of a request under paragraph 3 for an appeal to be set down for hearing, the Secretary shall fix a place and date of hearing which he considers suitable and shall give the appellant and the Director General at least twenty-eight days notice of the date and place so fixed:

Provided that, before sending an appeal forward the Director General may make an agreement in writing with the appellant fixing any place which the Special Commissioners think appropriate as the place of hearing of the appeal and, where he does so—

(a) he shall forward a copy of the agreement to the Secretary when he sends the appeal forward; and

(b) the Secretary shall fix as the place of hearing the place so agreed.

7. One of the Special Commissioners on the application of a party to an appeal may, after giving the other party an opportunity to be heard, vary any date or place fixed under paragraph 6 and may do so, in the case of a place so fixed, notwithstanding that the appeal has been partly heard in that place.

Appeals may be heard together

8. One of the Special Commissioners may order—

- (a) two or more appeals by the same appellant; or
- (b) two or more appeals by different appellants, if they agree, to be heard together.

9. One of the Special Commissioners may make an order under subparagraph 8(a) either of his own motion or on the application of a party to one of the appeals in question, but no such order shall be made until the parties to those appeals have been given an opportunity to be heard.

Scope of argument

10. At the hearing of an appeal the appellant may rely on grounds of appeal other than those stated in the petition of appeal and may vary any ground of appeal so stated:

Provided that, where he does so without giving reasonable notice to the Director General, the Special Commissioners shall adjourn the hearing for a reasonable period if requested to do so by the Director General.

Onus of proof

11. The onus of proving that an assessment against which an appeal is made is excessive or erroneous shall be on the appellant.

14A. Where both parties to an appeal attend pursuant to paragraph 14 at the time and place fixed for the hearing of the appeal the Special Commissioners may on the application of either or both of the parties grant a postponement of the hearing on such terms as they consider reasonable, including terms as to the costs of the postponement to the Special Commissioners and to the party not applying for postponement, against the party or parties (as the case may be) applying for the postponement.

15. Where a party to an appeal fails to attend, either personally or by a representative of the kind referred to in paragraph 12, at the time and place fixed for the hearing of the appeal, the Special Commissioners—

- (a) if they are then and there satisfied that the defaulting party is prevented from attending by sickness or other reasonable cause, shall postpone the hearing for what appears to them to be an appropriate time;
- (b) if they are not so satisfied, shall hear and decide the appeal in the absence of the defaulting party or may dismiss the appeal if the defaulting party is the appellant.

16. Where, after a deciding order has been made under paragraph 15 as the result of a party’s failure to attend at the time and place fixed for the hearing of an appeal, the Special Commissioners are satisfied on an application made within a period of thirty days after the making of the order that the defaulting party was prevented from attending by sickness or other reasonable cause, they may set aside the order and fix a time and place for a fresh hearing of the appeal.

Procedure at hearing

20. Subject to this Schedule, the procedure at the hearing of an appeal shall be regulated by the Special Commissioners in whatever manner they consider appropriate.

Deciding orders

21. As soon as may be after completing the hearing of an appeal the Special Commissioners shall give their decision on the appeal in the form of an order which shall be known as a deciding order and which, subject to this Schedule, shall be final.

21A. For the purpose of paragraph 21, “deciding order” includes an order where the Special Commissioners dismiss an appeal under paragraph 15.

22. A deciding order may, if the Special Commissioners think fit, be read or summarized in the presence of the parties by one of the Special Commissioners or by the Secretary; but the fact that any deciding order is not so read or summarized shall not affect its validity and the fact that any deciding order is so read or summarized shall not relieve the Secretary of his obligation under paragraph 39 to cause a copy of the order to be served on the parties.

23. If the Special Commissioners differ among themselves as to the decision to be given on an appeal—

(a) the opinion of the majority shall prevail; and

(b) the Special Commissioner who dissents from the majority view shall sign the deciding order as required by paragraph 39 (unless he is incapacitated from doing so as mentioned in that paragraph), but in doing so shall indicate the fact of his dissent and may, if he thinks fit, add a statement of his reasons therefor.

24. Subject to paragraph 23, a deciding order shall either confirm or discharge the assessment to which the appeal relates or shall direct the Director General to amend the assessment; and, where it directs amendment, the order shall—

(a) specify the appropriate amendments;

- (b) require appropriate amendments to be determined by agreement between the parties or, failing agreement, by the Special Commissioners; or
- (c) specify some of the appropriate amendments and require the others to be so determined.

25. Where a deciding order is made pursuant to subparagraph 24(b) or (c) in respect of an appeal, section 45 shall apply as if references to the order were substituted for references to the notice of appeal under subsection 43(1) (any agreement come to pursuant to the order being deemed to be and to have the same effect as an agreement come to under subsection 45(2) and section 46 shall apply as it applies on a failure to agree under subsection 45(2):

Provided that—

- (a) if a notice of appeal is filed under paragraph 29 in respect of the order, section 46 shall not come into operation until all proceedings respecting the case have been completed; and
- (b) if the Director General has cause to send the appeal forward to the Special Commissioners pursuant to section 46, he shall do so by sending to the Secretary and the appellant a written statement that a further hearing has become necessary by reason of the parties' failure to agree.

26. Where an appeal is set down for further hearing pursuant to paragraph 25, it shall not be necessary for the further hearing to take place before the same Special Commissioners as those who heard the earlier proceedings.

Costs and fees

27. Except as expressly provided in this Schedule, the Special Commissioners shall not make any order as to the payment of the costs of an appeal.

27A. (1) Any sum ordered to be paid by the Special Commissioners as costs shall become due and payable on the order for payment being made and shall be recoverable—

- (a) in the case of costs ordered to be paid to the appellant, as a debt due to him; and
- (b) in the case of costs ordered to be paid to the Special Commissioners or the Director General, as a debt due to the Government.

(2) In any proceedings for the recovery of costs ordered by the Special Commissioners the production of a certificate signed by one of the Special Commissioners giving the names and addresses of the persons to whom and by whom such costs are to be paid and the amount of the costs due shall be sufficient evidence of the amount so due and sufficient authority for the court to give judgement for the amount.

28. (Deleted by Act A353).

29. (1) Either party to the proceedings before the Special Commissioners may appeal to the High Court on a question of law against a deciding order made in those proceedings.

(3) The record of appeal under subparagraph (2) shall be filed notwithstanding that the notes of proceedings or grounds of decision are not ready within the sixty days period mentioned in subparagraph (1).

(4) When the notes of proceedings or grounds of decision become available, they shall be filed by way of a supplementary record of appeal without leave of the High Court.

29B. (1) The memorandum of appeal shall set forth consecutively, concisely and under distinct heads without any argument or narrative, the grounds of objection to the decision appealed against and the points of law which are alleged to have been wrongly decided.

(2) Where a supplementary record of appeal is filed pursuant to subparagraph 29A(4), the appellant may include in the supplementary record of appeal an amended memorandum of appeal without leave of the High Court.

29c. (1) A draft index of the documents to be included in the record of appeal shall be sent by the appellant to the respondent who may, within forty-eight hours, object to the inclusion or exclusion of any documents.

(3) The Registrar of the High Court and the parties shall endeavour to exclude from the record of appeal all documents that are not necessary or not relevant to the subject matter of the appeal.

(4) Where in the course of the preparation of the record of appeal one party objects to the inclusion of a document on the ground that it is unnecessary or irrelevant and the other party nevertheless insists on it being included, the record as finally printed or typed shall, with a view to the subsequent adjustment of the costs of and incidental to such documents, indicate in the index of papers or otherwise, the fact that, and the party by whom, the inclusion of the document was objected to.

37. Unless it is otherwise provided by rules of court, the rules of court for the time being in force in relation to appeals in civil matters from a subordinate court to the High Court and from the High Court in its appellate jurisdiction to the Court of Appeal shall, subject to this Schedule, apply with the necessary modifications to appeals under this Schedule to the High Court and the Court of Appeal respectively.
